

Speaker Bio

Lewis Williams has worked in corporate finance for the past 12 years. He has spent approximately half of that time with HSBC, working in both Corporate and Commercial Banking roles in Sydney, and most recently, as a Senior Manager in the Credit Risk Management function based in Hong Kong. Amongst other things, Lewis has responsibility for ensuring that HSBC offices in the Asia-Pacific region are aware of, and adhering to, the Bank's various sector policies. Lewis holds a Graduate Diploma in Management from the Australian Graduate School of Management, and is married with two young children.